Engineering Design Process

Think, Build, Test, Do It Again

That's the process engineers use when they tackle a problem. Engineers don't have official rules telling them to follow this set of steps. But, over time they've learned that they get the best results this way.

They think and brainstorm about a problem and factors they have to consider to solve it. They come up with an idea and build a prototype. They test the prototype. And, then they repeat the process to improve their results.

It Takes a Lot of Back and Forth
Engineers often move back and forth within the loop, repeating two steps over and over again before moving forward. It's a key to engineering success. Sometimes, engineers will focus on one specific step, and when complete, pass the project off to another team with a different skill set.

Engineers are creative problem solvers!

STEM Kit 7

Math Games

Scientific Concept: Mathematics

Recommended Ages: 8 to 12

Scientific Practice:

Multiplication, division, addition, subtraction

What to know about this kit:

Prime Climb is a game that mixes strategy and luck as players try to get their pawn to 101 exactly. The color coded board helps with completing the multiplication and the red circles are the prime numbers.

While recommended for players ages 10 and up, younger players can also participate with adult help. 2 to 4 players at a time.

Please note: This kit must be returned to a staff member at the Irene Ingle Public Library.
