I sent the info on the cart, but should have noted that the one we are interested in is the one with 10 drawers, it has one tier of 4 drawers and one tier of 6 drawers. If I can catch up with Bob I will have him scan what I have to you. Janet

Janet, here is the brochure for the Artromick carts. I have highlighted the type of cart and the options I think you are referring to in your email. Please indicate any changes and scan/fax back to me at your convenience.

I will be out of town until next Thursday. I have asked the nursing staff for comments on the med cart and PPE caddy. I lean toward the Bowman LD-035 with the addition of another unit underneath that has a shelf for safety glasses etc and another box for gloves. We need a med cart that is small, only 10 bins, and an individual bin for each patient and a separate locked narcotic area. I did not see that in MMI Med Carts. We have had Artromick before and liked it and it lasted well. It is an AC cart model, but in standard height. Accessories include a narcotic drawer, sharps/gloves container and drawer dividers. They show a picture of one with 6 small drawers and 4 large drawers for the patients, plus 3 other drawers. I will send you an email for sure next Thursday, but I do want the staff to be able to comment. Thanks

Janet

Janet, here are some brochures for the PPE Organizer and the Medication Carts. The two brochures for the PPE Organizers show the same make/model, but each has slightly different details about the product. Please choose the one you would like to have and identify it by the catalog number.

The cart brochure also has several options. If you see a style/model you like, let me know and we will include it on the list. If there is a different brand or model you would prefer let me know which one and we can source it as well.

Hi Julie and Dr. Tannenbaum:

This is from Janet with a few questions on the building. I have not heard anything about PPE caddys or Gown Protection Organizers for each patient room. They would hold gowns, gloves, masks, face shields. I heard talk of glove and needle holders, but OSHA would like something more comprehensive. I would prefer built into the wall if possible. Also we need another med cart for 10 patients with double lock capacity. Also, where we have hoppers do they have plexiglass shields to prevent splashing?

Please let me know what you think.

Janet
